CHALLENGE
1975

Lancaster Country Day School
Lancaster, Pa.

Out-stretched fingers of a groping mind, blinded by floating words
of abstract knowledge, clasp ever so tightly
the precious fruit of thought.

And, at last,
in gentle relief,
the embryo bud of understanding,
suddenly,
and yet ever so subtly,
in silent splendour,
tickles the fancy of a blurry-eyed morning,
and is awakened to the day . . .
echoing the rain-quenched whisperings of a thirsty night . . .

No. This can't be happening.
If I'm not mad,
If I'm not gloriously insane,
Then I'm just me again,
and if I'm me—
Then I can see.

Everything. all the flaws.
You're childish.

Silly.

And you have freckles!

I can see them under those pounds of powder. Look.
Freckles!

You see: self-deception. It's a sign of immaturity to wear lavender perfume before you're forty.

You're adolescent.

The Fantasticks

- by Tom Jones and Harvey Schmidt

What?

Child-like.

Soulful.

(Suddenly outraged)
That's a lie!

I hate you.

You're a poseur. I've heard you talking in the garden, walking around reciting romantic poems about yourself. He-the bold hero.

Ahh!

Georgia Regina Beil

It seemed I was a mite of sediment
That waited for the bottom to ferment
So I could catch a bubble in ascent.
I rode up one till the bubble burst
And when that left me to sink back reversed
I was no worse off than I was at first I'd catch another bubble if I waited.
The thing was to get now and then elated.

Robert Frost

To day

So here hath been dawning
Another blue day.
Think, wilt thou let it
Slip useless away?

Out of eternity
This new day is born;
Into eternity,
At night, will return

Behold it afore time
No eye ever did;
So soon it forever
From all eyes is hid.

Here hath been Dawning another blue day;
Think, wilt thou let it
Slip useless away?

Thomas Carlyle

If a man does not keep pace with his companions perhaps it is because he hears a different drummer. Let him step to the music which he hears, however measured or far away.

Henry David Thoreau

Einstein

I once,
I twice,
I three times did,
Forget to fall asleep.
I saw Light Shimmering through the trees,
With open window
felt the breeze,
Of what must been a storm brewing up.
What to do I did not know,
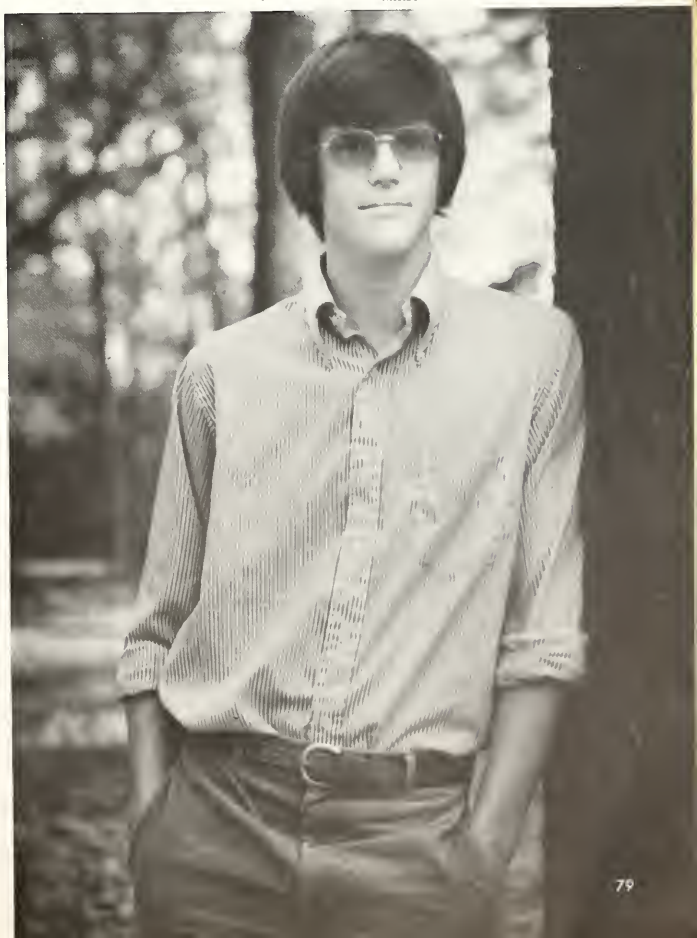
So under the covers
my head would go,
Later to wonder why
I hid.
I once
I twice
I three time did.

John Anderson Dunkle



With a good conscience our only sure reward, with history the final judge of our deeds, let us go forth to lead the land we love, asking His blessing and His help, but knowing that here on earth God's work must truly be our own.

e.e. cummings

If I can stop one heart from breaking,
I shall not live in vain:
If I can ease one life the aching,
Or cool one pain,
Or help one fainting robin
Unto his nest again,
I shall not live in vain.

Emily Dickinson's
"Not in Vain"

If you can keep your head when all about you
Are losing theirs and blaming it on you;
If you can trust yourself when all men doubt you,
But make allowance for their doubting too:
If you can dream — and not make dreams your master;
If you can think — and not make thoughts your aim,
If you can talk with crowds and keep your virtue,
Or walk with Kings — nor lose the touch,
If neither foes nor loving friends can hurt you,
If all men count with you, but none too much;
If you can fill the unforgiving minute
With sixty seconds' worth of distance run,
Yours is the Earth and everything that's in it,
And — which is more — you'll be a man, my son!

Our life is frittered away by detail.
... Simplify, simplify.

That man is the richest whose pleasures are the cheapest.

Henry David Thoreau

The best remedy for those who are afraid, lonely, or unhappy, is to go outside, somewhere where they can be quite alone with the heavens, nature, and God. Because only then does one feel that all is as it should be and that God wishes to see people happy, amidst the simple beauty of nature. As long as this exists, and it certainly always will, I know that then there will always be comfort for every sorrow, whatever the circumstances may be.

oh, what'll you do now, my blue eyed son?

oh, what'll you do now, my darling young one?

I'm a goin' back out 'Fore
the rain starts a Fallin'; I'll walk to the depth of the deepest black Forest, Where the people are many and their hands are empty, where the pellets of poison are Flooding their waters, where the home in the valley meets the dark dirty prison, where the executioner's face is always well hidden, where black is the

And I'll tell it and think it and speak it and breathit,
And reflect it from the mountain so all souls can seeit,
Then I'll stand on the ocean until I start sinkin',
But I'll know my songs well before I start singin',
And it's a hard, it's a hard, it's a hard,
It's a hard rain's a gonna fall.
